

Brazil Minerals, Inc. Adds Large Rare Earths Project

Belo Horizonte, Brazil--(Newsfile Corp. - February 9, 2021) - Brazil Minerals, Inc. (OTC Pink: BMIX) (the "Company" or "Brazil Minerals") announced that last week it added an important new project to its portfolio: mineral rights for rare earths totaling 19,389 acres in the northeastern part of Brazil. Rare earths comprise 17 elements and are essential for defense and high technology applications, including permanent magnet motors for EV.

Areli Nogueira, Vice President of Mineral Exploration of the Company, stated, "Brazil Minerals now has rare earths claims from two distinct geological presentations in the two largest such provinces in Brazil: in our project in Brazil's center-west, rare earths are found embedded in granites; in the project announced here, rare earths are associated with phosphate deposits and embedded in carbonate rocks."

Brazil Minerals has been aggressively expanding its mineral right portfolio: in the last 3 years its geology team has travelled over 20,500 miles within Brazil. The Company has now built a sizable 100% ownership of projects in a triad of highly strategic minerals for the Green Energy Revolution - lithium (28,316 acres), titanium (8,009 acres), and rare earths (30,390 acres). In addition, Brazil Minerals also has interests in iron through a majority position in Apollo Resources Corporation and in gold through a minority position in Jupiter Gold Corporation (OTCQB: JUPGF).
